Dear Friends,

It's so nice to be celebrating Easter season! After the intensity of Lent, I always look forward to the exuberant joy of Easter, which is celebrated in the church calendar until the end of May. We have the opportunity during this season to consider what it means to be resurrection people. For me, it means that we are saturated with hope, since we follow Jesus who overcame death, defied the powers of this world, and is present and alive with us to this day. Christ is risen! Christ is risen indeed! What does resurrection mean to you?

It's also such a delight to share with you that our Lenten gifts for our mission partners were a smashing success, bringing in $2,495.00 to support the Lowcountry Blessing Box Project ($395), James Island Outreach ($820), Water Mission ($600), Remember Niger ($120), Hands of Christ ($120), Habitat for Humanity ($240), and Presbyterian Disaster Assistance ($200). All these gifts of just $40 can really add up to make a big difference in our community and our world! Thanks for participating and for your generosity.

As I think about the scripture story for this Sunday, I can't help but connect it to where we are now as a church in transition. It's the story of doubting Thomas, who has a hard time believing that Jesus is risen when the other disciples tell him. Thomas needs to see for himself in order to be convinced. We can relate to Thomas. We have put our faith in the members of the PNC, who are searching for our next pastor. We have to trust them, even though we can't see what God is doing, and we can't control the outcome. In time, we will see God's plan revealed, but in the meantime we are called to be faithful, to give and serve and show up and care for others just as Jesus taught us.

Times of transition can be amazingly awakening! We get shaken out of our routine. We can't just go through the motions without thinking because there are surprises and unexpected twists. My prayer for all of us is that this transitional time helps us to grow in faith, helps us to see Jesus more clearly, and helps us to be more aware of what and who God created us to be.

In Christ,
